D. , New Haven, Conn. To The Hon. Joel Parker, LL. D. , Royal Professor of Law in Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass. Sir, --If the seven letters which you have addressed to me in the columns of a Boston newspaper, had been digested into a pamphlet addressed directly to the public, I might have criticized it in the humble capacity of a reviewer without regarding the debate as in any sense a personal one between you and me; or I might have been silent without seeming to confess that your strictures on a newspaper article from my pen are unanswerable, or to deem them unworthy of notice. But your letters, as they lie before me, are in the nature of a challenge to a personal debate. Either I must reply to them in my own name, or I must be entirely silent; and if I am silent after such a challenge, that will of course be construed as meaning: either that I have no respectful opinion of your letters, or that I dare not attempt a reply. The conductors of the New Englander have therefore conceded to me the privilege of answering your letters by a review in the form of a letter to their author. When I speak of a personal debate, I do not...
