Excerpt: . . . 23 so that consistent approaches are used by the various participants. 24 Neither DOD nor NORTHCOM guidance specifically addresses this issue. We recognize that DOD and NORTHCOM must meet their own mission and exercise requirements and the Joint Training System may be best suited for NORTHCOMs exercises; however, all of the states we visited use Homeland Security Exercise and Evaluation Program guidance. We found that having differing sets of guidance makes exercise development more difficult and potentially limits the benefits for participating states. Further, inconsistent approaches to the development and content of postexercise documentation may affect the ability of organizations to fully 25 learn lessons identified in exercises. We believe that achieving national preparedness requires a whole-of-government approach and is a shared responsibility among federal, state, and local governments and organizations and an integration of their various standards, policies, and 26 In the absence of clear NEP procedures into the national system. guidance on this issue, DOD should ensure that its components clearly understand when use of NEP planning and reporting guidelines is appropriate. We are recommending that the Secretary of Defense and the Joint Staff provide specific guidance that defines the conditions under which the combatant commands should follow the Homeland Security Exercise and Evaluation Program planning and documentation requirements or the DODs Joint Training System should be modified for those civil support exercises. DOD provided written comments on a draft of this report and provided technical comments which we incorporated into the final report as appropriate. DOD agreed or partially agreed with all our recommendations and described actions it...
