Conveyed by the underground railroad, which the author has rendered as a literal mode of transportation, Cora travels from Georgia, to South Carolina, to North Carolina, to Tennessee, and finally to Indiana. Dogged every step of the way by a legendary slave catcher, Cora bears witness to multiple atrocities. She tries to hold on to her hope for a better life. Cora is a third-generation slave who has lived on a Georgia plantation since she was born. She s had to fend for herself since she was about 10, when she was abandoned by her mother. Her master is James Randall, who runs half of his family s plantation. His cruelty pales in comparison to that of his brother Terrance, who s been beating slaves since he.
