THE ART OF THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN: HOW TO RUN FOR ELECTED OFFICE WITH NO MONEY, NAME RECOGNITION OR POLITICAL CONNECTIONS (PAPERBACK)

Createspace, United States, 2013. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Because every election these days is so important to the future of our great nation, the desire for the average American to choose a side and get involved is greater than ever. The size of the office being sought is insignificant; the will to invoke change is there. But with most people, there s a problem: they don t know where, how or even when to start. The average American doesn t have the money, connections or name recognition to do what it takes to get elected. That s where The Art of the Political Campaign comes in. As a former, candidate for political office, Brian Duetel quickly found out that there was little resource for the average guy to make the jump into the political process. That s why he authored, The Art of the Political Campaign: How to run for elected office with no money, name recognition or political connections. As he was campaigning, Duetel decided to document how an ordinary person could run for public office. In addition to what he learned on the campaign trail, Duetel decided to ask other successful politicians what they encountered. After years of searching, investigating and surveying those officials, Duetel compiled a thorough list of advice and stories. These stories come from politicians from across the country; from mayors and county board members to state representatives and state senators - no political stone was left unturned. This is a political book that is politically free. No issues, agendas or political parties are ever brought into play. Duetel wants people to enjoy the information, advice and stories in the book without a predetermined bias. If you re thinking about running for office, if you...
