Excerpt from History of the Girondists, Vol. 3 of 3: Or, Personal Memoirs of the Patriots of the French Revolution Alphonse De Lamartine was born at Mcon in France, on the 21st of October, 1792. His family name was De Prat, but he subsequently assumed that of Lamartine, after a maternal uncle, from whom he inherited a considerable fortune. His father was major of a regiment of cavalry under Louis XVI. , and his mother was grand-daughter of Madame Des Roys, under-governess to the Princess dOrleans. Thus attached to the ancien rgime, the Lamartine family were necessarily deeply involved by the French Revolution, and the poets earliest recollections are of a gloomy prison-house, in which he visited his father. His mother (who died the victim to terrible accident) and his father, escaping the dangers of the period, retired to an obscure retreat near Milly, where the earliest years of the subject of our sketch were passed. The recollection of the domestic serenity of his youth has never been effaced from his mind; and many times in after life, as poet and traveler, he has...
