Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Chaplain, Vol. 15 Do you believe that it has been conquered? In the first place, we all know that our attitude toward death, yours and mine too, is a matter of faith, not of demonstrable fact. Men have generally adopted one of three attitudes toward death:1) Some have defied it and concentrated on vindicating the dignity of human life. Thus did the Stoics of old, Warner Fite used to tell us, and thus do their modern counterparts.2) Some have tried to ignore it both the playboys who sought to have a roaring good time as long as they lived and all moderns who deny the reality of death, pain, and sin.3) Others have accepted the stark fact but triumphed over its threat to the meaningfulness of their lives. They accept the obvious fact that death is real and sin is real and pain is real. But they insist that these episodes are not the last word. The last word is life and love and joy. By faith they are more than conquerors. Whichever attitude you and I take toward death is a matter of faith of the souls invincible surmise, in Santayanas phrase. There is no proof no knowledge susceptible of investigation and validation of what lies beyond the grave. Bertrand Russells view is as much a matter of faith as St. Pauls. Which faith do you, and you, and you vote for? I vote with St. Paul. II In the second place, the Christian faith concerning death is summed up in St. Pauls word, We are more than conquerors through him who loved us. Nothing can separate us from the love of God...
