Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: LAP Lambert Academic Publishing | Four Stakeholders' Perspectives on Brazil's Brand Image | "Existing research in international business discreetly recognizes the presence of theoretical convergences regarding the image of a country (e.g. country-of-origin, country branding, nation branding) and the reputation of a country. Yet, no theory on country reputation is robust in literature. Based on this setting, the core theories employed in this cross-disciplinary study are drawn from reputation principles, also rooted in country-of-origin theory and aligned to nation branding while supported by country branding strategies (including marketing, communication and public relations). The need for these theoretical significant linkages supports filling a gap in applied social sciences knowledge with regard to the management of the reputation of a country". Fundação CAPES, Ministry of Education - Brazil, has funded this research. | Format: Paperback | Language/Sprache: english | 60 pp.
