

Cases in Differential Diagnosis for the Physical and Manipulative Therapies (Paperback)

By Robyn Beirman

Elsevier Australia, Australia, 2011. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Physical and manipulative therapists often find themselves in the role of the primary contact practitioner. It is imperative that they are trained to identify any underlying medical problems that may require referral to a medical practitioner. This text is a case book to facilitate the development of skills required to confidently arrive at either a final diagnosis or differential diagnosis. Cases are representative of life stages and a range of differential clinical topics is covered in each life stage: Infancy and childhood; Adolescence; The adult years; and, The Later Years - the elderly. Comprehensive appendices provide valuable additional resource including abbreviations, orthopaedic tests and additional questions. Students will gain valuable insight into the types of scenarios they will encounter in clinical practice and as a clinician, as well as develop and refine their diagnostic skills.
