Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from An Account of the Free-School Society of New York The association had now assumed a responsible shape; and the Trustees soon perceived that they had undertaken a great and arduous task. The erection of a building suitable for a school, the salary of a teacher, and other charges incident to such an establishment, would require a fund of considerable amount. Sensible, however, of the importance of the undertaking, and anxious that the friendless Objects, whose welfare they had in view, should begin to participate in the benefits designed to be bestowed upon them, they determined to make an immediate application to their fellow-citizens for pecuniary assistance.
