AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENT WORK (CLASSIC REPRINT)

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Agricultural Experiment Work The following pages have been written in response to a request from the Minister for Agriculture, made at the recent meeting of the experts of the New South Wales Department of Agriculture held at the Hawkesbury Agricultural College. They are more largely directed against the old-fashioned plot system of agricultural experiment, a system which I definitely abandoned in 1875, than would be necessary in a country where the influence of the plot system was less dominant than in Australia. I hope this will be regarded as a Sufficient excuse for the full exposure given in some places of what, to the trained mind, may seem the most obvious fallacies. The manner of experimenting in agriculture is gradually changing - always in the direction of the laboratory; or, perhaps, it would be better to say the laboratory is gradually enlarging its scope so as to include the fields of the farmer, while the conservatory is gradually attaining the dignity of an agricultural laboratory. This change is found to be of the greatest use ill advancing agriculture, and I would fain see these Colonies take a prominent position in hastening this general advance, not merely as a matter of pride in scientific research, but as a just due to their great agricultural resources and growing agricultural importance. Beyond question the glory of this age is its experiment work, and there can be no higher study, and no study of greater economic value, than that devoted to the nature and possibilities of experiment. Unfortunately, this is not yet sufficiently well understood. While it is perfectly true the whole world now-a-days listens with the greatest respect...
