This building is erected in conformity with the endowment of the late Sir William Fettes, a merchant in Edinburgh, as a college for the education of youth. The structure, which was designed by David Bryce, R.S.A., is covered with the finest work. The approach is by a straight and wide drive nearly a quarter of a mile long, from the entrance at Comely Bank. Coming nearer, the building shows great wealth of details, not so varied as Looking over the eastern wall there may be seen below St. Bernard s Mineral Well, which, however, must not be supposed to have any connection with the adjoining river. The water is an excellent sulphureous liquid, possessing the usual medicinal qualities. The late Lord Gardenstone was the first to...
